Wave Salad Bowls

Another bright idea from our design team. The wave bowls interlock on shelf, saving valuable space as well as looking great. Small in height so they can be easily stacked, but large on top which means more product is visible. The bowl is also stylish enough to be transferred straight to the table, showcasing food superbly.

The wave bowls are manufactured in recycled PET (rPet), a material made mostly of post consumer waste. This material is fully approved for direct food contact and offers a more environmentally responsible packaging solution, while retaining great clarity and rigidity

The Wave Salad Bowls are available with forks that fit subtly into the lid.
